

2021 National Hemp Symposium

February 9-10, 2021 | Virtual Symposium

Why Sponsor the National Hemp Symposium?

The Global Hemp Innovation Center, on the behalf of the National Academies of Science's Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, will be hosting the inaugural National Hemp Symposium. This virtual conference will be held February 9 and 10, 2021.

Speakers representing leading industries across ten world economic sectors will envision what they see as the future directions for their sectors and products, and how hemp could fit into that picture. We want the conference audience to get a glimpse of the future opportunities and challenges. The conference will help set the stage for developing a national research and development plan through mid-Century. Our speakers' perspectives will be used to help define the science needed for the thousands of hemp-based products that could displace the unsustainable fossil fuel and water-intensive source materials currently in use.

The conference world economic sectors include: Health, Defense, Technology, Retail, Transportation, Energy, Government-Law, Construction, Environment, and Food/Beverage.

Net proceeds from the conference will support the Global Hemp Innovation Center's Hemp Equity Research Program. To build a truly sustainable hemp-based economy, attention must be given to social justice approaches and actions that are inclusive and equitable for all. Please let me know if you can help or have questions and want to discuss.

We invite you to partner with us to support this important conference and showcase your company to contacts and leaders in the field.

Please find attached an outline of sponsorship packages, so that you can choose the tier that works best for you. Please don't hesitate to reach out with questions; we are happy to discuss and work with you on individualized sponsorship opportunities.

Best Wishes,
